

Fabrizia Galli

WG Member

Dr Galli was born in Varese (Italy) in 1967 August 23rd and attended the European School of Varese, where she graduated with a European Baccalaureat in 1985.

She is a Medical Doctor graduated from University of Pavia (Italy) in 1992 and then specialized in Radiology at University of Milan in 1998.

Dr Galli is a radiologist mainly focusing on breast imaging with experience both in the Italian national healthcare system and in the private sector.

Moreover, she is a breast cancer survivor and BRCA1 mutation carrier.

In 2017 she learnt about aBRCAdabra, a non-profit association that represents BRCA mutation carriers at the Italian national level.

In 2018 she was elected vice president of aBRCAdabra. Since then, she has been involved in patient advocacy and in raising awareness on hereditary cancer.