Miroslav Samaržija, MD, PhD

WG Member

Professor Miroslav Samaržija, graduated at the University of Zagreb, School of Medicine. He has been educated abroad on several occasions, mostly in the United States (Columbia University, Harvard University, American Institutes of Health, NIH, Bethesda) and in Austria (AKH Vienna). In his third consecutive term, he heads the leading pulmonology clinic in University Hospital Centre Zagreb, Croatia. He has made a notable and original scientific and professional contribution to the research of lung cancer, pulmonary circulation, chronic obstructive pulmonary disease and lung transplantation.

As the head of the Department of Respiratory Diseases at University Hospital Centre Zagreb, he has been involved in the implementation of the Croatian National Lung Cancer Screening Program as the National Coordinator of the Screening Program. With expertise in respiratory oncology and experience leading clinical teams, he contributes to the coordination of large-scale lung cancer screening efforts in Europe.