

Piret Veerus MD, PhD

---

WG Member

Piret Veerus is a senior researcher at the National Institute for Health Development in Estonia, and the chief doctor of West-Tallinn Central Hospital Women's Clinic.

She has a MD (Ob/Gyn) from University of Tartu, Estonia, and a PhD in public health from University of Tampere, Finland. She has participated in several European projects on cancer prevention and cancer screening (EUNICE, Eurochip-2, Eurochip-3, EU-TOPIA, PERCH), and is a member of the expert panel of cervical cancer screening guidelines in Estonia. She is a board member of the Estonian Gynecologists' Society.

She has published over 50 papers on cancer screening, gynecological cancer, and women's health. She is currently a lecturer at the University of Tartu and supervises postgraduate thesis studies.